NUMBER CCXXI.

A LOT OF VERY ODD FELLOWS IN TOWN

Last Monday witnessed the streets paved all over with Odd Fellows, who had turned out of their houses, and come from the country to take up their Lodge-ings here.

Before the Parade there was a meeting at the Academy of Music to hear some of the Fellows speak their pieces. Below we have

The Orator of the Day in the act of administering condign punishment upon the audience, and we also give a portrait of

The Gentleman Who Was to Sing.
but as the day was fine without, we made for the door as soon as the first speaker had got well under way, and by means of a sketch club we had with us, knocked off two or three of the banners that were right in our face.

The first in interest was

The Good Samaritan Lodge.
Indeed, we knew by the design on its banner that it is invested with much interest, say about 10 per cent. a month.

The Chosen Friends had a neat little design, which created a great deal of envy among the Fellows, both Odd and even.

The next and only banner close at hand was that carried by

The Tenton Society.
a foreign organization, we believe. This banner was adorned with the mystic "three links," which in this case were salted, and which served as a tonic among the Tentonians. As soon as we could, we got into a favorable position, and then Spared no Pains to See the Thing Out.

An amateur violinist lately gave as much latitude in choice of tunes as the proverbial Hobson used to give in horses. He remarked, as he rose with his bow, "Well, boys, I can't play but one tune; now which'll you hev?" Which they all thought they would.

To KEEP YOUR WIFE IN CONSTANT CHECK—Make her dress in gingham.

A newspaper contains an account of the production of a new play, and says the audience "sat spell-bound. There were only four persons present. One was deaf, and the other three were asleep."

John G. Saxe is responsible for the following paragraphs from Marital:—

"Your nose and eyes your father gave, you say; Your mouth your grandpa; and your mother took Your fine expression; tell me now, I pray, Where in the name of Heaven you got your cheek?"

RULES FOR SELF-GOVERNMENT.
By a Prudent Old Gentleman.

Always sit next to the carter, if you can, at dinner.

Ask no woman her age.

Be civil to all rich uncles and aunts.

Never joke with a policeman.

Take no notes or gold with you to a fancy bazaar, nothing but silver.

Your oldest hat, of course, for an evening party.

Don't play at chess with a widow.

Never contradict a man who stutters.

Pull down the blind before you put on your wig.

Make friends with the steward on board a steamer; there's no knowing how soon you may be placed in his power.

In every strange house it is as well to inquire where the brandy is kept; only think if you were taken ill in the middle of the night!

Never answer a crossing-sweeper. Pay him, or pass quickly and silently on. One word and you are lost.

Keep your own secrets. Tell no human being you dye your whiskers.

Never offend a butler. The wretch has too many chances of retaliation.

Write not one letter more than you can help. The man who keeps up a large correspondence is a martyr tied, not to the stake, but to the post.

Wind up your conduct, like your watch, once every day, examining minutely whether you are "fast" or "slow."

NOTHING LIKE SYSTEM.—Systematic Man.—"Confound it all!—can't make it out; I'm a dollar and a half short in my cash. Let me see:—Cigars, 65 cents; Drinks, 93; Billiards, $4; Drinks at the St. Nicholas, $1-15; Cigars, 85; Drinks, $2; Supper, $11-50; Charity, 5 cents; Drinks, $2-75; dropped down area railings, $5 bill; Drinks, 90 cents; lent $3 cigars, $5; Faro, $84; Toothpicks and things, 25 cents; gave somebody $5; Drinks and Cigars, $5-20; blown away by the wind, a lot of small stamps. Still, I'm at least $1-50 short. Drot it all, I must have been paying some Bill or other. That's the worst of getting tight—I always do something foolish."

BIRDS OF A FEATHER.—When a man has feathered his nest you will generally find that he also plumes himself upon it. How true it is, therefore, that "riches take unto themselves wings?"

A SEEDY FELLOW.—A Gardener.

AN OBJECT OF ATTRACTION.—A Maggot.

A member of the Peace Society is said to have objected to live on the earth because it's a revolver.

An exasperated dealer in skates got off the following, after Tom Moore's "dear gazelle":—"I never wrote up 'skates to sell,' Trusting to fickle nature's law, And advertised and puffed 'em well, Confound it! but 'twas sure to thaw."

CHEAP AND NASTY.—A pennyworth of Epsom salts.

THE LATEST THING IN DRESSES.—Night-dresses.

A MARE'S NEST.—A stable.

An honest farmer was invited to attend a party at the village squire's one evening, where there was music, both vocal and instrumental. On the following morning he met one of the guests, who said, "Well, farmer, how did you enjoy yourself last night? Were not the quartets excellent?" "Why, really, sir, I can't say," said he, "for I didn't taste 'em; but the pork-chops were the finest I ever ate."

A Frenchman, wishing to speak of the cream of the English poets, forgot the word in his enthusiasm, and said, "The butter of poets." An Englishman remarked that he had fairly churned up the English language.

What is the difference between a civilized dinner and a person who subsists at the North Pole?—One has his bill of fare and the other has his fill of bear.

THE SKELETON IN EVERY WOMAN'S CLOSET.—Her hoop-skirt.

TO BE REVIVED (SINCE THE ALARM ABOUT POISONOUS WASHES).—The Rightful Hair.

"Mamma!" exclaimed a beautiful girl, who suffered affection to obscure the little intellect she possessed, "what is that long green thing lying on the dish before you?" "A cucumber, my beloved Georgina," replied her mamma, with a bland smile of approbation on her daughter's curiosity. "A cucumber! Gracious goodness, my dear mamma, how extraordinary! I always imagined, until this moment, that they grew in slices!"

A story is going the rounds of a party of ladies who were caught in a shower having the color washed from their cheeks. A lady at our elbow thinks the color of some of the gentlemen's noses would not be washed out without a water-spout.

PRACTICAL VS. THEORETICAL.—A college professor was being rowed across a stream in a boat. Said he to the boatman, "Do you understand philosophy?" "No, never heard of it." "Then one-quarter of your life has gone. Do you understand geology?" "No." "Then one-half your life has gone. Do you understand astronomy?" "No." "Then three-quarters of your life are gone. But presently the boat tipped over and spilled both in the river. Says the boatman, "Can you swim?" "No." "Then the whole of your life's gone."

CONTRADICTORY CONJUNCTIONS.

What does a husband's promise about giving up tobacco end in?—Why, in smoke.

What does a drunken husband's thirst end in?—Why, in bier.

If your wife "kills you with laughing," what crime does she cause to be perpetrated?—Why, man's-laughter.

If you refuse your wife any boxes for the opera, in what condition do you find boxes and wife?—Why, in tiers.

It is not an uncommon complaint against a newspaper that it "hasn't life enough." But a brother editor reports this odd objection made to his paper by a gossip-loving old lady:—"I like your paper very much; I have only one objection to it—it hasn't deaths enough."

"COURT"-ING AFTER MARRIAGE.—Getting a divorce.

The "BIG INDIAN" OF AMERICA.—Ingenuity.

"Sir," said an old Scotch woman to her minister, "I dinna ken a part of your sermon yesterday." "Indeed; what was it?" "You said the Apostle used the figure of circumlocution; and I dinna ken what it means." "Is that all? It's very plain. The figure of circumlocution is merely a periphrastic mode of diction." "Oh! ah! is that all?" said the good woman; "what a pair fool I was not to understand that!"

A COW BELL.—A beautiful milk-maid.

A Southern editor congratulates himself that half the lies told about him ain't true."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

FOR THE SUMMER.—TO PREVENT
sunburn and all discolorations and irritations of the skin, blotchiness, or other impurities, use Wright's Almond Glycerine Lotion. It is deliciously fragrant, transparent, and has no equal as a toilet soap. For sale by druggists generally. R. & G. A. WRIGHT, No. 604 CHESTNUT STREET.

It requires no unscrewing or detaching, has no separation between back and seat, no cords to break, and no hinged foot attached to the top of the back to support it when down, which is unsafe and liable to get out of repair. It has the conveniences of a bureau for holding clothing, is easily managed, and it is impossible for it to get out of order.
